With reference to the above-mentioned subject, we wish to inform you that Aqylon Nexus Limited ("the Company") has executed a Memorandum of Understanding ("MoU") with the DataDirect Networks India Private Limited, the world's leading AI data platform provider ("DDN") to explore strategic collaboration leading the development of AI-ready hyperscale data centres that will serve as the backbone of the nation's digital transformation.

The MoU has been executed with the objective of exploring potential strategic collaboration opportunities in the domains of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Hyperscale Data Centre infrastructure. The proposed collaboration may include, inter alia:

- Create world-class "AI Factories" in India—hyperscale data centres specifically engineered to support generative AI, large language model (LLM) training, and data-intensive HPC workloads.
- Integrate proven, enterprise-grade parallel file systems and NVMe storage solutions that deliver the unprecedented throughput and low-latency performance critical for AI workloads
- Evaluation of joint opportunities across India and other mutually agreed geographies.

The MoU sets out a broad framework for cooperation between the parties and does not constitute a legally binding agreement. Any definitive agreement(s), if entered into, shall be subject to mutual consent, due diligence, internal approvals, and applicable statutory and regulatory compliances.

The Company believes that this strategic association, if progressed further, may enhance its technological capabilities and strengthen its presence in emerging AI and digital infrastructure segments, aligned with its long-term growth strategy.
