Langur that triggered panic captured

Express News Service
Vadodara, November 14

A GREY langur that caused panic and attacked three persons in Vadodara's TP-13 locality over a week was captured by the Forest Department on Saturday, a day after its latest attack left a woman who was on her morning walk hospitalised, with four bite wounds.

The latest attack took place around 8:30 am on Friday at a residential society in TP-13, near Chhani Jakatnaka, when a resident and former railway medical department employee, Suman Patelia, was out on a morning walk.

The langur attacked three people over nearly a week

The assault, which lasted barely 13 seconds, was captured on CCTVs. The Forest Department set up a cage inside the apartment complex, where Patelia was injured on Friday.

After an hour of attempting to lure the grey langur, the animal was captured, bringing relief to residents.
